

Relief Fund Sags Under Heavy Drain

Increasing Number Of Needy Calls For Generous Contributions Here

"Give till it hurts" was the slogan adopted this week by the Sierra Madre relief organization. More funds are needed, with the increasing number of those in need, many of them in the white-collar class and eager to earn the 35 cents an hour wage offered under the rule that "all who are helped can help those who help them."

Sierra Madre's policy of capitalizing the distribution of aid received another stamp of approval yesterday from J. C. Monahan, of the county Employment Stabilization Bureau, who visited the city to consult with City Manager Myers, W. R. Humphries, executive chairman of the relief committee and Mrs. J. H. Wright, chairman of the employment committee. Mr. Monahan's bureau allots the employment created by county improvements.

System Best Of All "There is nothing to equal this system in the whole county," said Mr. Monahan.

The local committee on employment, headed by Mrs. Wright, and including Messrs. Ward, Craig and Mayor Reavis, has plans to expedite street work, under the new ordinance passed last week by City Council. In addition to the hundred percent signers of Esperanza street, petitions are rapidly being signed that will provide work on other unpaved streets. Employment will be available as soon as the city acquires the necessary equipment, bids for which have been advertised.

Chairman Humphries reports that during the seven weeks the work of relief has been in progress, 256 articles of clothing have been distributed, food orders in exchange for work amounting to over 325 hours have been issued, eleven loans averaging $5 each have been made, and grocery orders given to a large number. These figures do not cover the Thanksgiving baskets. Part time work is found for those who are not strong enough to do a full day's work, and work for women to do at home is given in many cases.

The response to the call for financial aid was heard this week when Commander Embree of the American Legion turned over $103.50, the proceeds of the Legion and Ladies Auxiliary dance, 21 city officials and employees remitted to Treasurer C. W. Jones their first monthly contribution of $91.50, members of Temple Beth Israel added the sum of $37.00 to their previous contribution to the general fund for relief.

Heavy clothing, bedding and shoes are needed badly and a telephone call to the Red Cross Headquarters will bring a car to your door for clothing and other contributions.

Another survey is being made by the committee in charge of the investigation of cases to determine the amount of money required to take care of the sick, infirm and aged during the next four months. Children at school receiving lunches, while during the coming vacation, receive milk at their homes.

Additional subscriptions to the Red Cross relief fund are announced at the headquarters last night, were as follows:

American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary $103.50; J. C. Kraft, $5; Benjamin J. Grammel, D. Able, Mr. and Mrs. H. Shapiro, Mrs. F. K. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. B. Solnit, Mr. and Mrs. J. Weber, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hall Perry, $4; Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Layton, $3; Mr. and Mrs. S. Bandler, Mrs. E. Goldberg, $2; Mrs. C. E. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Aschkenazy, Mr. and Mrs. L. Karpf, Mr. and Mrs. Griebenson, A. Platt, Mr. and Mrs. Resnick, $1; Mrs. M. Coats, August Schutze, Alice Segman, S. M. Schwartz, Mary Ann Woehler, Leona Woehler, Joan Woehler, Dr. John L. Woehler, I. E. Munsell, Mrs. L. Brown, Edythe M. Dutcher, Mrs. Esther A. Forman, C. W. Forman, Ira C. Fox, Mrs. Homer W. Glidden, Dale Langley, Minnie R. MacDowell, Mrs. Fanny Melzner, M. E. Moore, Mrs. Solomon, J. C. White, L. Keltz.

Everyone, especially the men, are invited.

Twelve Nominated For Directors Of Local Trade Body

New directors for the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce will be selected from a list of 12 names submitted this week to the members.

Six directors to serve two-year terms will be elected from the 12 who received the highest count in the first balloting. The 12 are: W. E. Craig, Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, Joseph Belohlavsky Jr., Woodson F. Jones, R. C. Copenhaver, Waverly E. Pratt, Fred Griebenson, Henry Isaacs, Norman Morrison, R. C. Corlett, Mrs. Lida Grant and R. M. Finlayson.

Santa Claus Sends S O S For Dollies

By Harry Burke "Where are all the little toy dolls?" asked Fire Chief Richards yesterday as he looked over the little toy soldier and the little toy dog, the new old wagons, scooters and myriad playthings, the firemen had retrieved from the castoffs of the city's children, for less fortunate children of Sierra Madre.

"Yes, where are the dolls?" he asked. "We want dolls—any kind of dolls. No, we don't care if a leg or an arm is gone, or the stuff is gashing out of their little bodies, or an eye or ear gone. We can fix 'em. Surely some little girl kiddie has a doll or two to spare out of her many—a little doll that will bring joy to the heart of some other poor little girl. We have the paint, here, or the glue, or a needle and can put in a stitch or two to make 'em whole again."

"Now it's this way. Since The News told of the little toy soldier and the little toy dog, every boy kid almost in this town has been bringing in his old toys to be mended by the firemen for Santa Claus to take around to the little ones who haven't any. But what we need most now is dolls. Where are the little girls with abandoned dolls? A rag doll will do, or a china doll, or one which used to squeak. We can even put the squeak back."

The store room at 66 Central avenue is a busy place these nights. There is a challenge there for a toy, or a doll that the firemen can't repair. They are almost ready to load Santa Claus down, but they need more. Take your children's old toys to them, or old and tattered dolls. Or phone to the fire department and they will be sent for.

Be Sure Your Gifts Reach Santa Claus

Business is picking up at the post office. Postmaster Wright says it is too early to judge just how much of a Christmas rush there is going to be, but that there has been an appreciable increase in mailings this week.

The postmaster offers the following suggestions for Christmas mailings. They might be classed as "Helpful Hints to Hopeful Mailers."

"Have all packages, however small, weighed. Don't guess at the postage.

Write your name and address and the name and address of the recipient on a card or slip of paper and enclose it in your package. If the outside wrapper is torn or destroyed that slip will save the package from joining the 'unclaimed' accumulation at the dead letter office.

"Pack in strong boxes—pack solidly, so heavy things like jars of cold cream and flat irons don't jingle around among the silk lingerie and the bridge pajamas.

Observations

—By LEE SHIPPEY—

SPENT Saturday in Agua Caliente, the most beautiful man-made place in Mexico, except Chapultepec, and the most magnificent monument ever erected to American prohibition. Had to pay 60 cents for a pint bottle of Mexican beer such as I used to buy in Mexico City at two for a quarter. In fact, beer is higher in Agua Caliente than in San Francisco, Agua Caliente being so much closer to Hollywood.

It isn't trifling little profits like that which keep up that $6,000,000 establishment, though. It's the gambling. There's a casino to which hundreds of good, moral Southern Californians and visiting Iowans flock daily to win fortunes—and succeed so well that the ceiling is inlaid with gold. There also are rooms for those who don't win all they want to in the casino. And in the grand stand there are all kinds of other gambling devices. And patronizing every darned one of 'em were people who "can't afford to give any Christmas presents."

Comrades Win Out By A Bare Point In Thrilling Game

In the fastest basketball game of the season the Comrade club nosed out a victory over the Sierra Madrans by one point last Monday night. The game ended with the score 33 to 32. Starting the last ten minutes of play 15 points behind, the Sierra Madrans staged many a thrill in their uphill fight. Accurate passing from Draman to Burroughs almost overwhelmed the Comrades. Lichnog was the outstanding player, scoring 20 points.

L. S. Ham, 89, Comes To End Of Long Trail

Llewellyn Sprague Ham came peacefully to the end of a long trail at his home, 180 North Mt. Trail, Sunday afternoon. A few hours before the 56th anniversary of his marriage, with his wife by his side lending light to the dimming passage of the last leaf of his studious career, the veteran teacher, on the eve of his 89th year, died as he lived.

Llewellyn Ham came to Sierra Madre two years ago to spend the wintering season of his allotted time. Born in Wales, Maine, January 15, 1843, he spent his childhood in an atmosphere of New England puritanism. He attended school in the footsteps of Longfellow and Nathaniel Hawthorne and from that classic seat of learning went to Illinois. For a few years he was engaged as an engineer on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Then he became a teacher and for 20 years his unmatched understanding of that art made his little school at Panama famous throughout the middle west. On December 7, 1875 he married Francis Tomlinson, of Panama. Broken health took him to Colorado and 13 years ago he came to California.

Time, nor age, could lessen the veteran's urge to add to his store of learning, and before he was settled in Sierra Madre he took up the study of Spanish. When the last summons came he was his master.

At the funeral of Llewellyn Ham on Wednesday there came Professor George Smyth, of Pasadena, a classmate of the deceased and the sole survivor of the class. He attended the funeral of the first of our class to go," he said, "and I have come to see the last."

Five children survive, Mrs. E. H. Porter of 145 East Alegria, Sierra Madre; Mrs. Fred Seaway, Buffalo Creek, Colo.; Mrs. S. J. Farley, Compton, Calif.; Elmer S. Ham, of Denver, Colo., and Harold S. Ham, of Rochester, N.Y. A sister, Elizabeth Ham, is still living at Uxbridge, Mass.

The burial on Wednesday took place in Sierra Madre cemetery. Rev. A. O. Pritchard conducted the services. The pallbearers were Albert Stoball, of Fullerton, three of his near kin, Robert Seaway, E. H. Porter and S. J. Farley, and L. H. Johnson and Norfleet Tallicott.

Exhibition Of 54 Bush Miniatures Wins High Praise

An exhibition of 54 miniatures by Miss Ella Shepard Bush, of this city, at the Dalzell Hatfield galleries in Los Angeles, is attracting widespread attention in art circles. In a lengthy review of the exhibit in the Los Angeles Times, Albert Miller, art critic, writes as follows:

Until the 24th inst. at the Dalzell Hatfield galleries, we are afforded an opportunity to take the measure of the dean of western miniature painting, Miss Ella Shepard Bush of Sierra, for no less than 54 of her works are shown covering the full range of her activity in art to which she has devoted her life.

There are many paintings one would like to touch upon, but it must suffice to say that we see here the art of a sensitive and conscientious artist, most of whose work has been done here, one who has had sound training, received many honors and kept her talent at a high pitch.

New Bridge In Demand For Canyon

Civic Bodies Join In Plea For Structure To Reduce Flood Danger

Stirred by the wrecking of the wooden bridge over the Little Santa Anita wash in Canyon Park, all the forces of the city have joined in a campaign to have the structure replaced by a new 20-foot concrete span, to carry the added traffic created by the recently improved highways.

The Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution at its meeting on Monday night, urging immediate replacement. The Canyon Park Association on Friday night ordered a letter dispatched to Chief Engineer Eaton, of the County Flood Control. Manager Myers declared yesterday that the city would bring the strongest pressure on the county. "We are doing everything possible," said Mr. Myers, "and expect a favorable result."

Commenting on the Canyon Association's request to the City Council that an ordinance be drafted to limit loads on Canyon roads to 10,000 pounds, and to enforce the 15,000-pound limit now in effect, City Manager Myers said there were both county and state regulations and no ordinance passed here could conflict with them. He said the city would seek legal advice before any action is taken.

The Sturtevant Road bridge which caved in last week under the weight of a heavy truck and shovel being taken to the Corum Camp by the Los Angeles Granite Decomposition Co., was quickly repaired by that company after the accident, but the Canyon Association in its letter to E. C. Eaton, addressed by Mrs. J. C. Heasley, secretary, declared that the wooden structure was inadequate and a flood menace.

After repairing the bridge the granite company ran into another obstacle when its heavy trucks were forced back by Contractor Jack Bingham, who refused to permit heavy hauling on the new roads which he claims are still his, not having been accepted by the city. The trucks and shovel were intended to remove granite from a three-acre knoll owned by Mrs. Cora B. Corum, to be used in the Foothill Boulevard widening project.

Local Boy Brings Prize To Home Town

Another award dropped in the lap of Sierra Madre youngsters at the High School Press Convention held in Washington High, Pasadena, December 4th. Delegates from the Woodrow Wilson Junior High received the much coveted award for the best report on the junior high schools of Southern California. Sam Schwartz, of Sierra Madre, the victorious sports editor, presided at the sports discussion. Other delegates from here were Gwendolyn Gaze, publicity director and Sam Hohri, assistant editor.

COMMUNITY INVITED TO TURKEY CARD PARTY

Fifty Young Actors Await Curtain Call

Performance Of Rare Interest Promised With Presentation Of Dawn Boy

The first dress rehearsal of the operetta, "Dawn Boy," story and lyrics by Mrs. Cecily A. Allen, with music by Oscar Rasbach, to be given by the pupils of the grammar school in the auditorium this afternoon and tomorrow night, was held on Wednesday. The 50 youngsters who will perform for the benefit of the local relief fund, gave promise of a public performance of rare interest. Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal, and her teacher aids, have accomplished wonders in training the children all from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, ranging in age from eight to eleven.

It required several weeks of tryouts before the final selection of players for the principal parts was made. Billy McDougall will appear in the name part, "Dawn Boy." Pamela Gaze will be "Silver Dew," Charlene Rasbach "Moon Beam," Norma Dack "Storm Dancer," Harry Feder "See-All," and Jack Bailey, "Red Blanket."

One Adult In Cast

The only adult in the cast will be Grey Oliver, baritone, who will take the part of "Evan God." Miss Mary Pfahler will be the musical director, assisted by Mrs. Roland A. Adams. Miss Lusted has charge of the art department, Mrs. May Wheeler, properties, Virginia Berry, Gladys Ballard and Virginia Brainard, the stage, and Mrs. Eva Moore, Ruth Taylor and Mrs. Edward Schneeburger, costumes.

Among the youngsters taking part in the ensemble numbers will be: Hunters—Rudolph Hartman, Elliott Jackson, Henry Shippey, Hial Hall, Alberto Becerra, Glenn Sample, Edwin Evans, Buddy Holland, Hiroshi Nishijima; Weavers—Dorothy Meade, Mary DeTemple, Agnes McAndrew, Yaye Taksugi, Shirley Berghoff, Adrianna Gilbert, Francis Lalone, Leona Shields, Regina Rivera, Rosa Najera, Margaret Groth, Muriel Zahler; Potters—Gordon Blanke, Cecil Bever, Stanley Bennett, Jack Copenhaver, Allen Wood, James McAndrews, Nathan Berrstone, Alfredo Portillo; Water Carriers—Jane Anderson, Victoria Ballestrero, Lillian Kennedy, Toshiko Aisawa, Anita Avila, Kathleen Johnson, Florence Osti; Maidens—Marian Dudley, Betty Anderson, Barbara Mitchell, Mary Alice Harkness, Betty Lou Syler, Lorraine Hobson, Virginia Butts, Marjorie Croan.

Settings are Unique

The audience at the "world premiere" this afternoon will see settings vastly more complete than those which appeared in dress rehearsal.

In direction Mrs. Cecily Allen's work and the musical direction of Miss Mary Pfahler and Mrs. R. A. Adams are coordinated nicely, with judicious appreciation of the capabilities of child actors.

Local Plan Gets Boost By Sheriff

"Unemployment and consequent want breed crime, as witness the fact that there are 700 more prisoners in the Los Angeles county jail today than there were at this time a year ago," said Sheriff William I. Traeger, in a speech warmly commending the plan evolved by this city's central relief committee and the City Council, to solve the unemployment situation and relieve the distressed. He was addressing the Kiwanis club and its guests at the Tuesday noon luncheon and he was discussing the proposal that the more than five miles of dirt streets in Sierra Madre shall be paved at a nominal cost to improve the city, while affording badly needed work for families in distress.

The general scheme worked out here of trading services for help was ideal, the Sheriff said, and was being followed by other communities which had observed the system here. He spoke following Mrs. Jessica H. Wright, who explained the improvement-relief plan in detail and called upon the Kiwanis Club for its earnest support.

Sheriff Traeger held his hearers' attention for an hour with a most interesting recital of the early history of California. W. M. Bond, who shared the honor of chairman of the day with Dr. J. L. Woehler, introduced the Sheriff.

President Waverly E. Pratt announced that the recently elected officers for 1932 would be installed on the evening of Tuesday, December 29, when a dinner will be served to the ladies of the Kiwanis and the evening will be given over to cards and entertainment.

Every Business House To Have Christmas Tree

R. C. Copenhaver and Charles B. Klunk, appointed a committee by the Chamber of Commerce to arrange for holiday decorations in the business district, declared yesterday that the green tubs were ready, the Christmas trees ordered, and all plans arranged to have the display illuminated, probably on the 17th, instead of the 19th.

"We have had fine cooperation from all the merchants," said Mr. Copenhaver, "and there will be a lighted tree in front of every store."

Protests Hit Work For Relief Here

Opposition has appeared to the plan for relieving the unemployment situation in Sierra Madre by the paving of the city's unpaved streets. It is sponsored by officers of the recently organized Sierra Madre Improvement and Protective Association, an organization inspired by several former Councilmen, which on Wednesday challenged the Council's right to provide employment under the provisions of Ordinance 348, which was adopted last week.

In a communication over the signature of H. J. Kohl, the Council, at its meeting this week, was advised that Mr. Kohl's association "notes with alarm" adoption of the ordinance and asserts that money expended under its provisions would be illegally expended. The Council was also advised that it is without legal authority to buy machinery necessary to put the ordinance into effect, and that members of the Council would be held individually liable for money spent for machinery or otherwise.

Pasadena has been operating under an ordinance of which the Sierra Madre ordinance is a copy, since 1915. Alhambra has been proceeding under the same ordinance since 1919.

The same association demanded that the members of Council pay the salary of $4,083.33 collected by George W. Schilling, an engineer, for services rendered the water department. The communication contended the salary was illegally voted by the Council and demanded that an action be authorized to collect the amount from the Councilmen who voted to employ Schilling.

Schilling was engaged to conduct a survey of the plan to increase the water storage in the city's underground reservoir by throwing down waters over spreading ground on city property at the pumping station. The communication set out the warrants drawn to Schilling's order, but no claim was made that the services for which he was paid were not rendered.

Another communication from the association demanded that payment be withheld from Bingham and Heuser, contractors, who have just completed the paving of roads in the Canyon Park area. A long list of complaints against the character of the work were set forth in the communication, which was supplemented by a communication from former Councilman Henry Isaacs, demanding that the contractor be not paid because, Mr. Isaacs said, he had "serious doubts as to the legality of the entire Canyon Park paving project, from the fact that one member of the Board of Trustees, while holding office, was employed by the contractor on the work on October 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11." Mr. Isaacs said he has a photograph of the man at work. The man referred to was former Councilman R. W. Stewart.

The Council has fixed the evening of December 23 for the hearing of all protests against the Canyon job before its acceptance from the contractors and did not on Wednesday go into the merits of the various complaints. The same association demanded that East Grand View avenue be repaired and asked the Council to request the County Road Department to improve Sierra Madre avenue north of Central Avenue, in keeping with the improvement the Council persuaded the County to undertake between Central avenue and Foothill boulevard.

E. Waldo Ward sent in a protest against the diversion of water headed for the city spreading grounds and underground basin through his property in the eastern section of the city. A communication from the Chamber of Commerce expressed appreciation for the passage by the Council of legislation to halt the handbill nuisance. The Council passed finally an ordinance prohibiting parking on the new roads in Canyon Park for more than half an hour.

City's Plan To Help The Unemployed

Chairman Of Committee Outlines Program And Asks Co-operation

An explanation of the method by which Sierra Madre hopes to keep the demon want from the doors of the city's unemployed this winter was given the Kiwanis club and its guests at its weekly luncheon on Tuesday by Mrs. Jessica H. Wright, chairman of the unemployment committee of the city's central relief organization. She was loudly applauded when, having outlined the program she asked for the earnest cooperation of the Kiwanis and their friends. Mrs. Wright said, in part:

"Our committee has been working hard for more than two months. We have canvassed every angle of the local situation.

Smith & Burroughs vs. Wood & Tuttle Clash In Doubles

The finals in the doubles of the Sierra Madre tennis tournament will be played on Sunday afternoon with Randall Wood and Homer Tuttle clash with Emily Smith and Frank Burroughs. There is a silver loving cup at stake. Wood and Smith, playing together won one leg on it last year, but the same team will have to take another final before acquiring possession of the prize. Wood and Smith, probably the outstanding players here, were split up this year to make the competition keener.

Les Miller failed to show up last Sunday for his scheduled match with Burroughs, and so defaulted. If the doubles match this coming Sunday, which will be 3 in 5, does not prove too great a strain on Wood, he will play a single match against Burroughs.

Hartman Is New Head Of The Masons

A public installation, at which time the new officers of the Masonic Order, elected last Tuesday evening, will assume their duties, will be held on Tuesday, December 29, at the Masonic Temple, 33 East Central avenue. R. R. Hartman, newly elected master, will announce the appointive officers just before the installation.

The five officers just elected are R. R. Hartman, Worshipful Master; R. W. Stewart, senior warden; T. M. Schwartz, junior warden; H. E. Allen, treasurer, and R. D. Andrews, secretary. The occasion also marked the annual visit of District Inspector, Leslie M. Renaker.

The first degree will be conferred upon Howard Miller, next Tuesday evening, December 15, by Thomas M. Schwartz, master for the evening.

FINE PROGRAM FOR NEXT ORGAN RECITAL

The large attendance, which has marked the twilight recitals at the church of the Ascension, was repeated on Sunday evening at the sixth program presented by Dean A. G. H. Bode. Russian numbers were especially enjoyed by the audience and Miss Lalla Fagge showed her artistry in three beautiful violin numbers, accompanied by Dean Bode at the organ. The popular social hour over tea-cups in the Parish house followed.

Mrs. Louis du P. Millar will assist Dean Bode on Sunday evening at 5 o'clock with the vocal solos, Handel's "Om bra mai fu," known as Largo, and Hayden's "The Marvelous Work." Dean Bode will include two of his own and "A Sierra Madre Garden."

HOLIDAY VACATION WILL BEGIN TODAY

The holiday vacation of the Sierra Madre school begins today, the matinee of "Dawn Boy" ending all activities until the 24th, when there will be a full day session up to New Year's. The Woodrow Wilson Junior Hi, to which many local youngsters go, will have a vacation extending until after New Year's, four days more than the grammar school.

RUSSIAN RED MENACE TO BE DISCUSSED BY A RECENT VISITOR

George W. Hunter who is to speak Sunday morning at Bethany Church on the subject "The Prophetic Aspect of the Russia Red Menace of Today," is well qualified to speak on this theme for Mr. Hunter has just returned after three months' visiting the stations in several countries under the auspices of the American-European Fellowship. Mr. Hunter is a magnetic speaker and a fund of real life information is yours at this series in Bethany Church.

JUST as did the children in Robert Louis Stevenson's
"Foreign Lands" climb the tallest tree to be found, thus enabling them in fancy to "Look abroad on foreign lands—" so did the audience Wednesday morning in imagination look upon "China, Old and New," the White Brothers providing an illustrated lecture and art exhibit in lieu of the "tallest tree."

In the Orient for seven years,
Herbert C. and James H. White were able to authentically reveal many glimpses of the heart and soul of China "who revered learning while Europe was still in its swaddling clothes." The old and the new as well as the beautiful and the commonplace of China was covered in this graphic and comprehensive lecture.

Of vast China "stretching from bleak Manchuria to torrid Kwantung—from temperate Chekiang on the Yellow Sea to remote Kansu" the audience gained an entirely new conception of its arts and sciences and so was enabled to realize that the Oriental viewpoint of life is far different from our own.

Mr. Herbert White emphasized the West's failure to understand China as "due to a lack of understanding of China's viewpoint—a direct result of her historical background and religious tradition." "China today going through the throes of five great revolutions," said Mr. White, from which a new China will emerge.

"The family is the great center of Chinese life, and ancient worship with its many symbols is the foundation of society," remarked Mr. White.

Following the lecture the audience lingered many minutes over the art exhibit displayed on the wall of the auditorium. These beautiful photographic studies aroused genuine enthusiasm.

The delicious luncheon was in charge of Mrs. Nestor A. Young.
Guests and members seated at the speaker's table with Mrs. E.
E. Bacon as the hostess were:
Mrs. C. W. Jones, Mrs. W. F.
Thayer Sr., Mrs. C. H. Baker,
Miss Lalla Fagge, Miss Virginia
Jones, Herbert C. and James H.
White.

Hostesses at the other luncheon tables were: Mrs. F. P. Conard, presiding at the tables at which were seated visiting members from the local chapter of The Daughters of the British Empire who were guests of the club for the day, Mrs. W. E. Pratt, Miss Edna Green and Mrs. C. A.
Greese.

A. H. Morosco, legal advisor for the California Taxpayers' Association, was luncheon speaker with "Taxation and Economic Readjustment" as his topic.

Miss Jones then presented Miss Lalla Fagge, regent of the local John Ruskin chapter of the Daughters of the British Empire.
Miss Fagge spoke briefly of the origin and purpose of the British Society and extended an invitation to the community to visit the chapter house, 647 Manzanita.

Mrs. F. H. Hartman, chairman of the membership committee, introduced two new members, Mrs.
Mary E. Reddish of 533 West
Montecito and Mrs. Irvin C.
Louis of 334 North Lima.

Hostesses for the Red Cross benefit-bridge being given this evening by the Woman's Club are Mrs. E. E. Bacon, Mrs. C. W.
Jones, Mrs. Charles B. Klunk,
Mrs. George Lehner, Mrs. R. C.
Copenhaver and Miss Virginia
Jones.

Mrs. Copenhaver has charge of the "special party" for no-players. There will be many lovely prizes and delicious refreshments. A large crowd is expected.

The art department of the district federation appropriately heralded the Christmas season with "Madonna Day" last Monday when many members of the Sierra Madre club heard the lecture presented by Mrs. George A.
Crandall, who illustrated her talk with colored slides. The Pilgrimage taken through the various churches of Los Angeles included St. Paul's, St. Vincent's, St. Agnes, and St. John's. Copies of the works of Raphael, Correggio and Murillo were viewed.

IN YOUR GARDEN

By Jessie Ward Russell
Landscape Gardener

IF YOU have not already established a living Christmas tree in your yard you could use a growing Christmas tree in a tub this year and then plant it out in the yard for the years to come. For the large yard, there is nothing better than the Cedrus Deodora. For the smaller place the Lawson Cypress, the Inense Cedar or the Monterey Cypress make beautiful Christmas trees. All these trees are of easy culture.

We have taken the list of those registering for work and have cut out and boiled down until now we have 80 men with dependents who must be supplied with varying amounts of work each month. "Each case has been studied individually. If a man has four children and a sick wife he must have more days employment than a man with one child or a man whose wife is earning something. If a family is receiving help from relatives or from any other source, that has been considered. We have consulted experts in this line, people whose business is to budget for just such conditions. We may make some minor changes but, on the whole, our estimates will stand.

"These amounts, ranging from $10 a month up will cover only bare necessities, no gasoline, no cigarettes, no movie tickets, just food, shelter, warmth, light and water. But the total needed, even after this cutting to the bone, is $2685 per month. Where is the money coming from?"

"We have been advised by those thoroughly conversant with national conditions to plan a 12-month program, not to use up all resources in three or four months. If times improve, and some of these men go back to their regular trades and occupations, we can increase the budgets of those remaining to add a few comforts, but now we are preparing for 12 months. The total needed will be $34,380. How do you propose to raise the money?"

Mrs. Wright then proceeded to show that this could not be handled through private enterprises, it is too big. The money could not be taken from the city treasury as it isn't there. The whole amount available from taxes for running the city, exclusive of the water department, is $34,000 for the year. The amount needed for employment relief exceeds that entire amount. The money raised through the Red Cross drive is barely sufficient to provide for the undernourished children and the old and sick for approximately six months.

She continued: "The only solution is some public improvement which will pay for itself as it goes along. Some work that will give the taxpayer and property owner a dollar's worth of value for each dollar of cost. We believe the street improvement plan that has been outlined in the papers will do this.

"Briefly it means the dirt streets will be improved with a good serviceable surfacing which will last eight or ten years at the reasonable cost of a cent and a half a front foot, totaling $7.50 for a 50-foot lot. It will add to the appearance of the whole city, improve the property and furnish a large part of the needed employment.

"We ask your energetic, active support of this plan. It is being opposed by a small minority who oppose everything, but unless that minority has a better plan, a workable, practical plan that can be put in operation at once, and are willing to see it through, they have no right to oppose this one.

"Our committee welcomes constructive criticism. This crisis is no time for destructive criticism. If any one has a better plan and is willing to follow through with it, my committee will gladly step aside, we have no easy job. But if there is no better plan, and none has been proposed, stop knocking this one. Get behind it and shove.

"If your street is already improved, interest yourself in one that needs it, help sell the idea. These people must be provided for, each community must care for its own. Want and suffering, cold and hunger and desperation lead to crime. We are fortunate in Sierra Madre. We have no criminal class. Indifference must not create one. We have a big job and we must put it over. Get out and boost for this plan. Sierra Madre has never fallen down on a responsibility yet."

HOBOS GIVE CITY WIDE BERTH DODGING WORK ON WOODPILE

Ever since Sierra Madre gave publicity through The News, to the adoption of the rule that all able bodied applicants for aid would be shown the city woodpile, this city seems to have been given a wide berth by transient gentry in need.

"We have had just one applicant," said City Manager Myers. "He was shown the woodpile, did a half day's work and vanished. We have not been able to get enough wood cut to supply the fire place at the park house."

Now—more than any time in recent years

"Citrus Growers are turning to the Exchange!"

"I KNOW that I speak for every Exchange grower when I tell you how glad I am you've come in with us."

"The past month has been a big one for Exchange membership. Just recently, three entire organizations joined the majority. That's 235 new Exchange growers. Around 650 new cars of Exchange citrus for the coming year. Nearly 2300 acres of new Sunkist groves. And that's not counting the individual growers who joined during the same period.

"We're all glad to see the Exchange grow—particularly at this time. We need increased stability. We need more orderly distribution. We need an increased demand for our product. And the more united the citrus industry is, the better we'll be able to accomplish these ends.

"The Exchange was founded during times of stress. And now that the going is tough again the need for the Exchange is apparent to all.

"Last year the citrus industry did a big job. Sold 9,000 more cars of citrus than ever were sold before. There's another big crop ahead—another big job. No one will say what the market will do.

"But with you—with more citrus growers than ever—realizing that one, big united co-operative is best able to handle the citrus crop, we're in better position than ever to face the future with confidence!"

If not now a member—Learn why it is that Exchange growers, year after year, get the highest returns for their crops. Talk to the manager of the nearest of the Exchange's 217 local associations or 23 District Exchanges. Or write, Growers Service Bureau, Box 530, Station C, Los Angeles.

AVOCADO GROWERS TO MEET IN PASADENA

Sierra Madre and nearby owners of avocado groves will meet December 18 at 3 p.m. to elect the 1932 grower representative from this district on the directorate of the Calavo Growers of California. J. D. Hoffman, present director, will open the gathering at the "El Mirador" ranch on Linda Vista avenue, Pasadena, and will lead a discussion on growing problems. A large number of growers are expected, many of them new calavo association members as there are 700 more grower members today than a year ago, indicating the increase in the industry's plantings. To be eligible to vote, growers are to own groves within the district at which elections they are to participate.

BIG INDUCEMENT FOR TOURISTS NEXT YEAR

Eight years of effort by the All-Year club to secure a uniformly low basis of round trip summer vacation fares to Southern California from all parts of the United States met with success yesterday in the announcement by middle-western rail lines that they will meet the new low $122 summer fare basis voted by eastern lines recently.

The new summer round trip fares on the middle-western lines will range from $91.26 at Indianapolis to $104.57 from Pittsburgh with proportionate reductions from intermediate points and these 30-day tickets will be placed on sale May 15 to September 30, 1932.

Last Letters Of The Alphabet For Cars Of The Southland

Letters from L to the end of the alphabet will adorn the 1932 license plates of Southern California motorists. The new plates, 2,000,000 sets of them, have been shipped to the various distributing centers and will be issued beginning December 15.

The largest single assignment, a total of 810,000 sets, was made to the branch office in Los Angeles. These plates will run from 1M1 to 9X9999. Long Beach will draw from 1Y1 to 8Y9999, San Bernardino from 9Y1 to 2Z9999 and San Diego from 3Z1 to 9Z9999.

Counter deliveries of plates will be made at all branch offices of the department of Motor Vehicles, beginning December 15th. A simpler way, however, to obtain plates is to send a certified check, money order or bank draft for the amount of the fee with the certificate of registration to Sacramento. The applicant should note changes of address on the certificate and should write in the serial number of his car and number of cylinders.

If you have completed payments on your car during the year send your pink certificate properly signed by the person or firm from whom the car was purchased and $1 extra to complete the transfer. In such a case the total fee for license and transfer would be $4.

put the address on two sides. If an addressed side without the stamps comes first out of the sack, your package may be thrown in the "postage due" collection to wait till the rush is over. The stamps and address should stand out.

"Mail early—last minute packages are bound to get a certain amount of rough handling. There will be no deliveries on Christmas Day anywhere in the country, except specials. If unavoidably late, better use a special delivery stamp also. But it is wiser to be a day early than a day late.

"To patrons who are in the habit of putting out letters on their boxes I would suggest that they take a few seconds and face all those letters one way and top-side up. The carriers are not required to pick up letters from private boxes but do it gladly as an accommodation, but with bag and hands full, it gives a carrier the jitters to gather in 10 or 12 letters upside down and wrongside to from one box and, before he has them straightened out, he is at the next box gathering in another mess of scrambled mail. He has to turn them in at the post office in order and, during the rush, his seconds are much more crowded than yours.

"Remember rates on English and Canadian letters have been raised. Five cents for the first ounce to England and three cents for each additional ounce, three cents for post cards, Canada, three cents an ounce on letters and two cents for cards.

"Insure your packages, register valuable letters, don't send cash—send money orders or checks. Remember other folks are celebrating Christmas as well as you and don't get fussed if you have to stand in line a few moments. The clerks will serve you as promptly as possible.

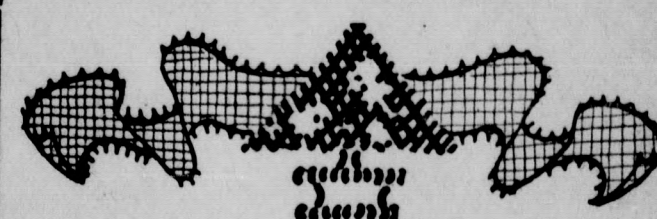

"Please, please know what you want before you get to the window. Don't be like the perfect lady who told me she would like 'about a dime's worth' and searched through three pocket-books before she found the exact dime she was willing to part with. I have always felt it spoke well for the restraints of our civilization that no one standing in line offered to choke her.

"You do your part in preparing your mail properly and it will be a big help to the postal employees in giving you the service guaranteed by the stamps."

Here's an Idea About Helping the "Situation" In Our Town

1 On your pantry shelf—or in the closet—there is a mighty fine electrical device—maybe a percolator or waffle iron or toaster or heating-pad—which isn't being used the way it should be, simply because there isn't a convenient outlet at hand.

2 Downtown, there is an electrical dealer who isn't very busy just now and a few odd jobs would help him.

3 Across town, there is an electrician who ordinarily works for the dealer but who is now cooling his heels because times are slack. A little Christmas money would be mighty welcome.

Why not put all these together?

1-2-3 Phone the electrical dealer and ask him, "What would it cost to put some extra outlets in my house?" Then tell him to go ahead—he will call in the idle elec-trician—in a few hours you will be able to use the appliances as you planned to use them in the first place. By doing this, you will have benefited several people, but yourself most of all.
